

BLUE LOBSTER

CANDY GAS: BLUE LOBSTER

Blue Lobster, a Compound Genetics cross of Apples and Bananas x Eye Candy, took three awards at the East Coast 2023 Zalypix: Gassiest, Best Terps, and runner-up for Best Overall. We see why—Blue Lobster is flush with blueberry candy terps layered with grape that bloom from deep green buds tinged with a dark periwinkle beneath clawfuls of frost. As the breeders state, she’s “in a league all her own.”

Thanks to these blissful effects and its insanely high 26-30% average THC level, Blue Lobster is often said to be a great choice for very experienced patients who are looking for help with treating the symptoms of chronic stress or anxiety, PTSD, chronic pain and depression or mood swings.

This bud has dense and super long, grape-shaped forest green nugs with rich amber undertones, super thin orange hairs and a frosty, blanketed coating of sparkling, amber-tinted white crystal trichomes.
