Description

Crunch Berries – also known as Crunchberry, Crunch Berry Kush or Captain Crunch – is an indica dominant hybrid owing its distinct sweet berry aroma to its parent, the award winning Blueberry (Cannabis Cup 2000). The nose on this cultivar is a scintillating tangy/sour affair infused with touches of vanilla, fresh hazelnuts and pine.

The flavour is a remarkable fruity bouquet that leaves a pleasant after-taste reminiscent of your favourite childhood cereal.

The high is energizing and euphoric and gradually drifts off towards a chilled out haze as it runs its course. With a state of relaxation being the guaranteed end game here, users recommend that Crunch Berries best be indulged in towards the end of the day.

It has hints of sweet berries and candy with a touch of vanilla and a candy-like aftertaste that sticks to your tongue for hours after you toke. The aroma is slightly spicy although still very fruity and berry in nature with touches of earth and pine. Crunch Berries buds have small forest green pebble-shaped nugs with rich purple undertones, bright orange hairs, and a coating of amber colored crystal trichomes.

The Crunch Berries high is just as addictive as its flavor, with uplifted effects that aren't overwhelming but can rather leave you feeling lazy. The high is great for feeding you creative inspiration as well as easing away any racing or painful thoughts. With these effects and its moderately high 15-16% average THC level, Crunch Berries is often chosen by patients who suffer from conditions such as chronic pain, anxiety or stress, insomnia, and appetite loss.
