Description

Josh D OG is an indica dominant hybrid strain created through a three-way cross of the infamous SFV OG X Triangle Kush X Hell's Angels OG strains. Josh D OG brings on a rather relaxing high that's perfect for kicking back at the end of a long day when sleep just won't come.

You'll feel a happy onset with a subtle lift that fills you with a sense of euphoria without affecting your energy level in the slightest. As this effect grows, your mind will slowly start to fold into itself, leaving you out of focus and pretty sleepy. Your body will soon follow suit, easing itself into a state of deep relaxation and calm that often ends in you dozing off.

Thanks to these sedative effects and its moderate THC level, Josh D OG is often chosen to treat conditions such as cramps, depression, chronic fatigue, mood swings, insomnia, and chronic stress.

This bud has a sweet citrusy flavor with hints of berries and fresh wood on each savory exhale.

The aroma is of earthy berries and cheese with a rich pungent that's released as the nugs are burned. Josh D OG buds have fluffy popcorn-shaped olive green nugs with long thin light amber hairs and a thick frosty coating of tiny crystal trichomes.
