Chicken n' Wafflez, it's what's for breakfast, dinner and you won't be skipping lunch. Guaranteed to be one of our all-time greatest creations, this strain is gourmet without the pretentiousness, potent without the anxiousness and inspiring without incapacitating. The fusion of buttery maple syrup terpenes poured over golden waffles followed by our secret blend of herbs and spices makes this admittedly unlikely flavor come to life for everyone who's grown the Chicken n' Wafflez. We'd be remiss if we didn't mention that the frosty purple buds make for ridiculous bag appeal, it's crazy loud, stands up to pests and pathogens and pretty much grows itself. We could go on and on about this one but you'll probably just have to try it to believe it. Be sure to save plenty of room for Chicken n' Wafflez on this years menu!

Description

Chicken n' Wafflez Strain Info

Ever dreamed of a cannabis strain that hits like a warm Southern breakfast?

The Chicken n' Wafflez strain by Humboldt Seed Company isn't just a name—it's a full-on flavor trip with the kind of punch that turns heads and melts stress in a single toke.

This mouthwatering hybrid was born from the fusion of Jelly Donutz #117 and Purple Cartel by Xotic Flavors, giving it a rich lineage that screams potency and character.

With genetics like that, it's no surprise this baby reaches a whopping 32% THC, making it one of those rare gems that doesn't mess around.

Forget couchlock—Chicken n' Wafflez brings on a high that's creative, euphoric, and delightfully balanced.

It fires up your mind without chaining your body to the sofa, perfect for sparking ideas or vibing through your playlist with a smile stuck on your face.

Visually, this strain is pure eye candy.

Think dense, frosty buds in deep purple hues, splashed with vivid green flecks and fiery orange pistils.

It's like nature's own tie-dye art, only way more fun to harvest.

Each nug is a sticky masterpiece, glistening with trichomes like it's been rolled in powdered sugar.

Flowering Time & Yield

Chicken n' Wafflez doesn't waste your time when it comes to results.

In indoor setups, it finishes flowering in just up to 60 days, keeping things moving for those who want quick turnaround.

Outdoor growers can expect to harvest around late September to early October, right when the fall colors match those incredible purple buds.

As for yield? She doesn't disappoint.

Expect up to 550 grams per square meter (19.4 oz/yd²) indoors and a jaw-dropping 900 grams per plant (31.7 oz/plant) outdoors when treated right.

That's a serious stash for such a visually stunning plant.

Effects and Aroma

Take one whiff of Chicken n' Wafflez and you'll swear someone just opened a brunch spot in your grow room.

The aroma hits with sweet maple syrup, salty butter, and crispy fried chicken—yes, you read that right.

Underneath all that delicious madness, you'll find earthy herbs and warm spices that round it out into a full gourmet experience.

Every inhale is rich and syrupy, and every exhale leaves you with this buttery, savory finish that lingers like a good memory.

And let's not forget that effect—clear-headed, uplifting, and absolutely mood-boosting without ever tipping into anxiety or paranoia.

It's the kind of high that makes everything feel a bit more colorful, a bit more fun, and a whole lot more chill.

Chicken n' Wafflez seeds are feminized cannabis seeds, which means you can count on female plants that go straight to the good stuff—no guesswork, no wasted space.

And whether you're growing in soil or hydro, indoors or under the sun, this plant rewards effort with chunky colas and unforgettable flavor.

Growing Tips & What We Love Most

One thing we truly appreciate about the Chicken n' Wafflez strain is how it makes life easy for growers.

It's a tough plant—naturally resistant to pests and common pathogens, which means fewer worries and healthier harvests.

We've found it performs incredibly well in a range of environments, but it really thrives in warm, temperate climates with plenty of sunlight.

In outdoor grows, it stretches tall and upright, soaking up the rays like a champ and rewarding patient hands with serious yields.

That said, even in indoor setups, it doesn't get too fussy as long as you keep the air moving and the light dialed in.

It's got a nice balance between ease and performance, so we'd recommend it to growers of all levels—even if it's your first run.

What really stands out for us is that combo of vigor, stunning colors, and how effortlessly it fills up the tent or garden with fat, frosty colas.

We always get excited watching those purple tones kick in late in flower, especially knowing the buds are just as powerful as they are pretty.
