Description

Lemon Cherry Gelato, another showstopper from Backpackboyz, shares a lot of the blissfully sour, amazing fruity flavors of its parents and its phenotype relatives. From its mom and dad, Sunset Sherbet, and Girl Scout Cookies, the strain acquires an amazing overtone of fresh aromas.

The buds grow dense, rugged, and tiny, with solid nuggets of trichomes. The strain has a diverse and pleasant aroma, which is overwhelmingly citrusy but with undertones of earthy, gassy, and fruity scents, including cherry. It also has a cookie smell. The terpene profile adds in a big dose of pine and sour berries. These all translate to an amazing taste as it leads into the classic stony high.

You'll feel relaxed all over, immediately. Lemon Cherry Gelato also has properties of an analgesic (pain reliever), stress reliever, and antidepressant. Those who suffer from mood swings can also find soothing relief in Gelato strains.
